

Command

Description

Board plays the role of receiver and MainController plays the role of invoker. Command pattern allows us to effectively store moves as commands, subsequently allowing us to undo moves.

